

Supplemental Bibliography for “Learning from the James Bay Cree” lecture¹

Paul K. Barten, Ph.D.²

Professor of Forest Resources, University of Massachusetts Amherst
Executive Director, Great Mountain Forest

Broker, Ignatia., 1983. Night Flying Woman: An Ojibway Narrative. Borealis Books/Minnesota Historical Society, St. Paul, 135 pp. [Everyone needs to read this book.]

Brown, Joseph Epes., 2007. The Spiritual Legacy of the American Indian—With Letters While Living with Black Elk. World Wisdom, Inc., Bloomington, Indiana, 148 pp. [compact writing style ...rewards diligent effort]

Carlson, Hans M., 2008. Home is the Hunter: The James Bay Cree and Their Land. University of British Columbia Press, Vancouver, 317 pp. [key reference ...the title says it all]

Krech, Shepard., The Ecological Indian: Myth and History. W.W. Norton & Company, NY and London, 318 pp. [provocative, scholarly...]

Olson, Sigurd., 1976. Reflections from the North Country. University of Minnesota Press, Minneapolis, 172 pp. [...he “breaks trail” for the rest of us ...written near the end of a life well lived by a great conservationist]

Richardson, Boyce., 1991. Strangers Devour the Land. Chelsea Green Publishing, White River Junction, VT, 376 pp. (first published by Alfred A. Knopf, 1976) [key reference ...to understand the genesis of contemporary issues]

National Film Board of Canada ...on-line viewing available or DVD can be ordered

Cesar’s birch bark canoe (absolutely amazing)

http://www.nfb.ca/film/Cesars_Bark_Canoe/

Cree Hunters of the Mistassini (by Boyce Richardson, an essential visual reference for a way of life not long past)

http://www.nfb.ca/film/cree_hunters

Ikwe (accurate, sobering, heartrending)

<http://www.nfb.ca/film/ikwe>

The Voyageurs (goofy, reasonably accurate, fun ...especially the ending)

<http://www.nfb.ca/film/voyageurs/>

www.greatmountainforest.org

Great Mountain Forest is a tax exempt private operating foundation

¹ Compiled for June 12, 2010 capstone lecture that followed “When Two Worlds Met: How the Fur Trade Shaped the Forests, People, and History of North America” – at the Norfolk Library, April 10 and 17, 2010, sponsored by the Great Mountain Forest, Aton Forest, Norfolk Conservation Commission, and Norfolk Land Trust

² pkbarten@nrc.umass.edu ...please feel free to contact me if you have questions or would like recommendations from this reading list in relation to your interests.